LANDHAUS
EDELWEISS

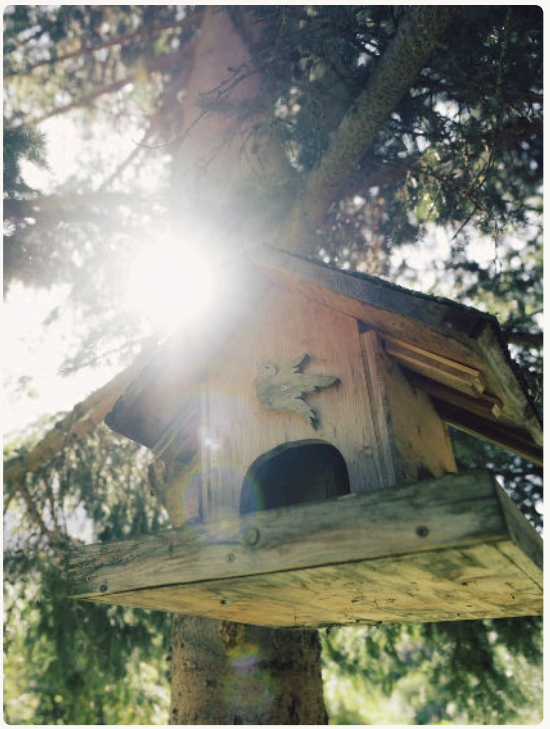

One year in Austria: here's what's new (and what's coming!)

Dear {{ contact.FIRSTNAME | default: "guest" }},

And just like that, a whole year has flown by! It feels like yesterday that our little family took the leap and moved to Austria. Time really does fly when you're chasing mountain views.

Our second winter season is already knocking on the door, but before it arrives, we've got some lovely news, and a little treat, for you.

Special offer

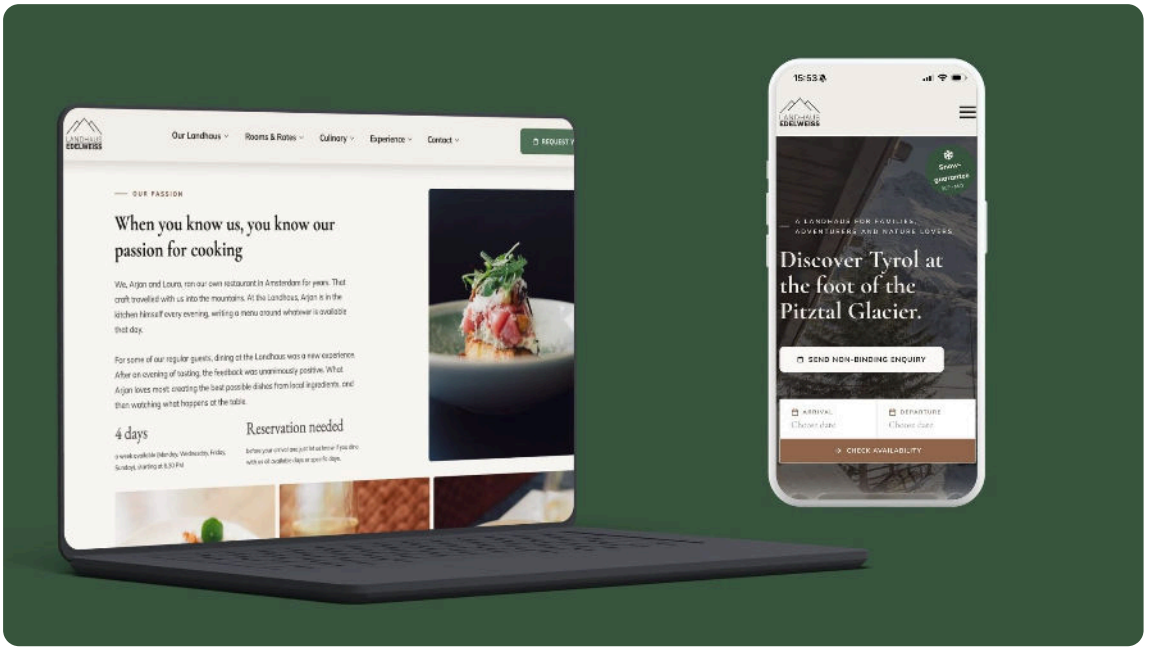

A golden autumn in the Pitztal

Autumn here is magical: golden forests, powerful waterfalls and perfect hiking weather.

To celebrate, we've got a lovely offer for you. Until 31 October, enjoy a special deal: 7 nights for 6, 6 for 5, or 5 for 4!

Booking is easy, just send a request via our website mentioning "autumn deal".

Refreshed in and around the landhaus

We definitely haven't been sitting still. The entire ski cellar and the bathrooms have had a full makeover. Expect genuine Austrian warmth and cosiness, with rich colours and plenty of wood. We can't wait to hear what you think!

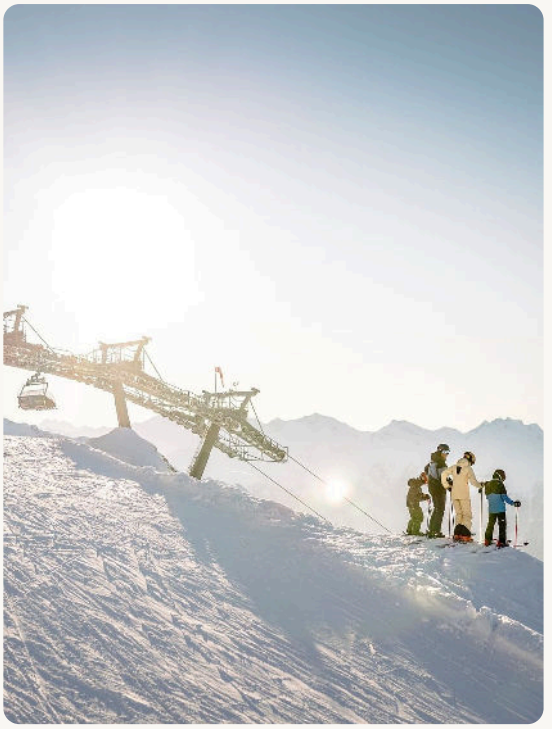

We're also incredibly proud of our brand new website: a beautiful spot full of information, tips and things worth knowing about our landhaus and the area. What's new is that you no longer book directly, but submit a request instead. The big advantage? You get a personalised offer tailored exactly to what you're looking for. And if you send your request before 6pm, you'll have a proposal in your inbox that same evening. How's that for service?

Snow season '26-'27 is almost here!

Winter season kicks off on 25 September, when the always-snow-sure Pitztal Glacier reopens, and we're right there with it!

How special is it to say you've already skied your first metres this autumn? Our landhaus is just a 4-minute drive from the glacier, and only 30 metres from the ski bus. Snow fun all the way to 2 May, now that's something special.

A couple more things:

- White Christmas: We still have a few rooms free for Christmas week (19 to 26 December).
- Save the date: From 9 to 16 January we're hosting a very special week at our landhaus. We're keeping the details under wraps for now, but pop the date in your diary and keep an eye on our socials!

Fine dining with Chef Arjan

In our first season, Arjan, drawing on 25 years of hospitality experience as an acclaimed chef, introduced half board. The response to his delicious creations gave us so much energy!

To focus even more on local produce and standout dishes, we're doing things slightly differently this year. We now ask you to let us know at least 3 days before arrival whether you'll be joining us for dinner. Arjan cooks three evenings a week for up to 20 guests per evening. On the fourth day (Wednesday), we serve an extensive cheese fondue!

Curious about our culinary options? Take a look on the website.

Looking back on our first year

What a year it's been. From a fairytale white Christmas to snowfall so heavy the locals still called it "not that bad" (while we were completely snowed in for three days!).

We had days under crystal-clear skies with fresh powder, but also a glorious first summer, breakfasting in the sun at 28 degrees. What a treat that was!

This winter season we welcomed so many warm, happy guests who went home well rested. Will we see you at Landhaus Edelweiss this coming season? We'd love that.

Liebe Grüße,
Arjan, Laura & familie
